

only at LWA!

We had some discussion about whether we would have dropped everything to follow Jesus if we were in the Disciple's position. We were then reminded that Jesus does come into our lives today and asks us the very same thing.

We said it's not easy to leave what we know and trade it for something that may not make total sense to us at the time. It comes down to really believing that Jesus will take what we know and make it greater.

We discussed the influence we have right now and made lists of all the places where we may be able to currently influence others . We pointed out that the four young men Jesus chose that day were not much older than their late teens and they also had a very limited influence before joining Jesus.

We looked over our lists and marked one or two places where we choose to start having an influence for Jesus and letting Jesus influence others through us, through our positive, Christian, actions toward others. Places where we choose to allow Jesus to make our influence greater than we could ever imagine and to make us "fisher's of people" to bring others to the saving grace of God.

Join us next time as we continue our series on what Jesus had to say about influence.
